This course is adapted to the wants of those teachers and business men who cannot take either of the other courses.

- 1. No student should enter the Sub-Freshman Class of either course, until fully up with it.
- 2. All students should take one of the above courses, and pursue it regularly; but those not wishing to do so, are permitted to select such subjects as they are competent to study, and can recite with regular classes, provided that they pass the entrance examinations in Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra, English Grammar and Geography.
- 3. In the Scientific Course, Students can take Music or Art, instead of German.
- 4. All the students are required to attend the Worship of God in the chapel daily, and to recite a Bible lesson weekly. Students of the Classical and Scientific Courses will study select portions of the Scriptures, in addition to the usual text books on Moral Philosophy and the evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion. The President will give frequent lectures on manners, morals and religious duties, intended to train the students to the life of Christian ladies and gentlemen. All who do not reside with their parents are required to attend public worship and Bible class, in some church, on the Sabbath. Students' prayer meetings are maintained and are well attended. The Faculty regard it as an important part of their work to labor for the moral and spiritual welfare of the student.
- 5. The degree of A. B. is conferred on students who complete and pass satisfactory examinations in the Classical Course.

The degree of B. S. is conferred on students who complete and pass satisfactory examinations in the Scientific Course.

A certificate of attainments will be given to those who complete and pass satisfactory examinations in the Select Course.

IV. SPECIAL COURSE.

The Special Course includes nine departments, in any one or more of which a student may graduate with Honors, first or second, according to the attainments made. These Honors are in no sense competitive. As many as complete the prescribed course receive them.

The departments of the Special Course are as follows:

I. Christian Ethics. 2, Philosophy. 3, Natural Science. 4, English Literature. 5, Mathematics. 6, Greek Language and Literature. 7, Latin Language and Literature. 8, French and German. 9, History.

II. No student shall be admitted as a candidate for First Honors later than the beginning of the second term of the Sophomore year, except that in Philosophy the candidate may be admitted at the close of the Junior year, nor, for the second, later than the beginning of the first session of the Junior year.

III. No student will be admitted to examination for Ilonors unless the average of his recitations and examinations in each subject the term preceding shall be 8.5

1V. In general, not exceeding one half as much matter in addition to the amount required in the ordinary course, in any of the above departments must be mastered in order to a second Honor: and additional thereto, an amount equal to that required in the ordinary course in order to a first Honor.

V. Honor examinations will be held the first week of each vacation, Senior included, at which candidates for the degree of A. B. or B. S. may present themselves; and those passing in any subject of any department shall be credited with the same. In the case of every candidate, the result of all the examinations will determine the Honor attained.

VI. Alumni may in like manner present themselves for examination in any of the departments named above, at any honor examination, and those passing in any subject will be credited with the same.

VII. The result of all these examinations will be entered on the College Register, and publicly announced.

TEXT BOOKS AND BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Allen and Greenough's and Harkness' Latin Grammar, and Caesar, Allen and Greenough's Virgil and Cicero; Chase and Stewart's Livy and Horace; Tyler's Tacitus; Kingsley's De Oratore; Goodwin's Greek Grammar, Leighton's Greek Lessons, Goodwin's Anabasis; Anthon's Memorabilia; D'Ooge's Demosthenes; Whiton's Lysias; Tylers Apology and Crito; Woolsey's Alcestis: Loomis' Mathematical Course, Revised Edition; Elliot and Storer's Elementary Manual of Chemistry; Snell's Natural Philosophy Snell's Astronomy; Orton's Comparative Zoology; Andrew's Constitution of the United States; Comfort's German Course; McGill's French Grammar; new edition; White's Latin Dictionary; Liddell and Scott's Greek Dictionary; The Student's Series of Histories, and Pennel's Greece; Smith's Classical Dictionary; Brown's Roman and Greek Literature, and Allen's Classical Hand-book.

ACADEMY.

This department is under the immediate supervision of the Faculty.

For satisfactory work, students must be of such maturity as to enable them to study at home. Candidates for admission should understand Geography, Spelling, Grammatical definitions and easy parsing, Arithmetic, particularly Common and Decimal Fractions.

The time necessary to complete the subjects required for admission to the Sub-Freshman class will depend on the capacity and diligence as well as the attainments of the student when admitted. These subjects should be thoroughly mastered before the student is promoted; ordinarily this can not be well done in less than two years.

The subjects of stuly are as follows: Spelling: Reading; Penmanship; English Exercises; Review of Geography; Green's English Grammar; Goff's Arithmetic; Ray's Elementary Algebra; Allen and Greenough's Latin Grammar and Latin Readers; Cæsar; Cooley's Natural Philosophy: Physiology; Natural History; Botany; Bible.

The Academy, it will be seen from the above, furnishes in addition to the instruction necessary to prepare a student for admission to the Sub Freshman class in College, a full course in all that is required of Teachers in the Public Schools of Illinois.

During the entire course there is a weekly Bible recitation. The students of the Academy are entitled to the same privileges as College students.

To secure the full advantage of the course, the student should enter at the beginning of the College year and remain till its close. No student can be absent a term without great loss. If unable to complete the course without interruption, it is better to discontinue an entire year.

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Music, under the charge of Prof. S. H. Price, affords facilities for the study of this subject seldom found in an institution of this character.

A regular course of instruction has been arranged in this Department, which course can be taken at the option of the student, instead of German in Scientific Course.

ART DEPARTMENT.

The Art Department is in successful operation under the charge of Miss Lizzie S. Gowdy, a graduate of the School of Art of Cooper Union. New York, N. Y.

I. The requirements for admission to the several classes are fully stated in the outline of the different courses. No candidate will be admitted to the Sub-Freshman class of either course, whose deficiencies exceed what may be made up in five months by an additional recitation. Candidates for advanced standing must furnish satisfactory evidence of proficiency in all the previous studies of the course they propose to take. No student of known immoral character, or whose influence is likely to be injurious to good order, will be admitted. Applicants for admission, unknown to any member of the Faculty, should bring certificates of good moral character.

II. The Statutes of the College, Chapter II., Section 3, provide that "No student shall be permitted to enter at a later period of the course, than the commencement of the first session of the Senior year." The spirit of this law, in the judgment of the Faculty, requires at least one full years attendance of a student on the exercises of the College in order to graduation. Under no circumstances will this rule, as thus interpreted, be relaxed while the above statute remains unrepealed.

III. The Senate has adopted the following as an additional chapter to the College Statutes:

"Section 1. All persons matriculating shall be regarded as students, and on payment of the required fees shall be entitled to all the privileges of the College.

"Sec. 2. Connection with the college is terminated by graduation or dismissal, honorable or otherwise.

Sec. 3. The privileges of the student shall be suspended in all cases of failure to pay the required fee and attend on instruction; provided, however, that the following privileges, namely, that of examination with his classes, active membership in the societies, representing societies and classes on public performances, and the use of the Library and Reading Room, may be granted to students temporarily absent, for a period not exceeding one year, on written permission from the Faculty, and the payment of two dollars per term.

Sec. 4. All persons enjoying any of the above privileges shall be subject to College discipline, the same as if in actual attendance."

The Faculty judge the attendance of a student on the exercises of the College at least three-fifths of any year as necessary to complete satisfactory the work of the year, and, therefore, will not, under ordinary circumstances, grant leave of absence, with the privileges of examination without recitation, during any one year exceeding four months. Any one being examined without having recited with the class, will be required to pass an examination doubly extensive. No student should attempt to prepare for examination in more thantwo-fifths of the subjects of any year without recitation. The Faculty are unwilling to grant leave of absence to any Senior. Seniors should be in attendance the entire year.

IV. There are during the year public exhibitions of the College classes as follows: Of the Junior class in May, and of the Sophomore in November. These exhibitions are held on such evenings and in such places as the Faculty may appoint.

V. At the meeting of the Senate in June, 1874, the following was added to the statutes of the College as Sec. 4 of chapter xiii: "It shall be unlawful for any student of the College hereafter to become a member of any secret College fraternity, or to connect with any chapter of any such fraternity, and also for any active member of such fraternity to be admitted as a student of this College."

VI. In regard to marking, grading and examinations, the following principles have been adopted.

1. Each recitation is marked on a scale of 10-9 indicating ordinary excellence, 10, extraordinary; these marks are averaged in each subject, monthly, and entered on the Monthly Record. The actual attendance is marked on the same seale, and entered on the same record. To be marked 10 in attendance, on the Monthly Record, the student must have been actually present at every roll-call of his class during the month.

2. Each class is examined on each subject as soon as completed, the examination of each student is marked on the same seale and entered on the Annual Record. To pass, the student must answer correctly at least 70 per cent. of all questions asked him. No student is credited with any subject until he has been examined and passed in it. The average of the marks received for all the recitations and for the examination, in any subject, determines the student's grade in that subject.

3. The Grand Average of the marks received in all the subjects in which the student has been examined and passed with his class during the year; and of the marks for attendance during the same time, dertermines the student's rank in his elass. This is entered on the Annual Record.

4. No student in the Collegiate Department is promoted from a lower class to a higher, whose deficiencies exceed what may be made up in one year by a single

5. The Salutatory and the Valedictory, on Commencement Day, are delivered, the former by the Senior Scientific, the latter by the Senior Classical who ranks highest.

6. In order to secure thoroughness in the elementary subjects, each College class will be required to pass a special examination, after a review conducted by a Professor, in Geography, Arithmetic, and English Grammar. In addition to the above, Classical students, in Latin and Greek Grammar. To pass in these subjects the students must make an examination grade of 8. The terms during which these reviews and examinations will take place are indicated in the "Course of Study."

Reports are sent to parents or guardians at the close of each term. The president should be notified of every case where a report fails to come within ten days after the close of the term.

VIII. The statutes expressly forbid the students to use intoxicating drinks as a beverage; to play eards, to frequent drinking, gambling, or billiard saloons, or improper places of resort of any kind. judge places of amusement, commonly called "balls" and "dances," to be improper places of resort for students.

IX. Students are required to notify the President, before changing their place of boarding.

X. Ladies and gentlemen are admitted to all the privileges of the College on the same footing.

LIBRARY.

The Library contains about two thousand volumes, selected expressly for the College. It is accessible to all the students. The County Library and Reading Room is open to all the Students free of Charge.

APPARATUS.

An extensive Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus affords the means for a satisfactory illustration of the most important principles in the various departments of Astronomy, Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; and opportunity is furnished for the students in Chemistry in Laboratory practice,

CABINET.

The College Cabinet contains a large assortment of Coins; Geological Specimens and other articles of interest, collected by Dr. Barnett in Palestine and Egypt; a Geological collection donated by the State, a valuable assortment of Minerals presented by Rev. T. D. Davis, of Camp Point; large variety of Corals; a valuable collection of Chinese Curiosities, the gift of Rev. J. C. Nevin, of California; and a cast of the famous Tanis Stone presented by Rev. Dr. Lansing, of Cairo, Egypt. The College Cabinet is one of the finest in the State.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are four Literary Societies in the College—the Philadelphian, Eccritean, Amateurs des Belles Lettres, and Aletheorian, and one in the Academy—the Ciceronian. In connection with these, students enjoy all the advantages which such societies are designed to furnish.

GOVERNMENT.

It is the aim of the Faculty to secure good order and diligence in study by force of moral and religious principles, rather than by direct exercise of authority. Those who persist in neglecting their studies, or in pursuing disorderly courses, or in exerting an evil influence, will not be permitted to remain in College.

For Instrumental Music (Piano, Violin, Guitar, etc.,) the charge for a course of twenty lessons is $16.00.

Instruction in Peumanship is given in the Academy and Sub-Freshman classes without extra charge.

There is no extra charge for Modern Languages.

The payment of all College dues is required in advance.

Boarding in private families, including lodging and fuel, has, during the past year, ranged from $3.00 to $4.00 per week. Some students board themselves at less than $2.00 per week.

The following statement will give full information as to the cost of a year.

- 2. The old academy building, for some years past, has been used for a company boarding house by a number of the students. By furnishing their own provisions, and employing a competent housekeeper, about thirty of as worthy young men as are in College, during the past year, boarded themselves, including rent, fuel and light, at $1.75 per week, amounting to $68.25 per annum, reducing the above estimate to $139.25.
- 3. To those who pay the lowest rates in private tamilies, the cost will be $3,00 for boarding, lodging, fuel and light, making an addition to the foregoing estimate of $39.00 per annum, amounting to $188.00
- 4. To those who pay the highest rates, $4.00 per week, for the same, the cost will be $78.00 in addition to the cost of self boarding, making an aggregate of $227.00.

In the Academy the cost is $8.00 per annum less for tuition and incidentals than in the College. When a student becomes a member of a College literary society, he pays an initiation fee of $5.00; and when he enters the Freshman class a matriculation fee of $5.00. Books will average about $11.00 per annum, except during the Junior and Senior years when the cost becomes greater.

The cost of clothing and traveling, and the private incidental expenses of a student are not included. They will depend largely upon the habits of the student. Clothing need cost but little, if anything, more in College than out.

EXAMINATIONS.

Each class is examined in each book or subject when completed. These examinations may be either oral or in writing, and it is intended that they shall be thorough and complete.

SESSIONS AND VACATIONS.

The present College year will close on Commencement Day—Thursday, June 17th. The first session of the Twenty-fourth College year will open on Tuesday, September 7th, and close on Thursday, December 23d. The second session will open on Monday, January 3d, and close on Thursday, March 24th. The third session will open on Monday, April 4th, and close on Thursday, June 16th. The summer vacation will continue about two months, the winter about two weeks, and the spring about one week.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Students applying for admission on hired scholarships must present a certificate from the owner thereof, anthorizing them to use the same. Such certificates should specify particularly the time for which the scholarship has been transferred. No Scholarship is available until the interest is paid.

MONMOUTH contains about six thousand inhabitants, and is situated at the junction of the Main Line and the St. Louis Division of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. It is easy of access from every direction. It contains flourishing churches of various Evangelical denominations.

History of the Aletheorian Society.

Until the fall of 1862, the A. B. L. was the only ladies' society in connection with the college. But this year some of the girls entering the Sub Junior class of the old scientific course, knowing little of society work, hesitated about joining this society, and asked permission to meet by themselves for a year, intending at the end of that time to join the A. B. L.'s. When they asked permission to hold these meetings, the Faculty gladly consented, but advised them to found a permanent society, claiming that the A. B. L. would only take new life by the competition thus afforded.

The thought of this almost paralized them; for they were all girls under sixteen years of age, but, being urged on and encouraged by the Faculty, the work was finally undertaken and the society founded in the fall of 1862. Miss Sarah Struthers, now Mrs. H. F. Wallace, was its founder, and the charter members were: Miss Mary Joss (now Mrs. A. P. Babcock), Miss Mattie Wright (now Mrs. Wm. Findley), Miss Josie Parry (now Mrs. W. W. Young), Miss Lizzie Parry (now Mrs. Wm. Brown), Miss Emma Moore (now Mrs. Dunlap), Miss Salina Graham (now Mrs. McCutcheon), Miss Mary Beckwith and Miss M. E. Alexander. Dr. Alex. Young, at that time professor of Greek and Hebrew, suggested the name "Aletheorian," which was adopted.

The first meetings were held in Professor Hutchison's recitation room, up stairs, in the old college building. At the beginning of the next college year, the fall of 1863, the new college was completed. But the building having been planned before the society was founded, there was no hall provided. Owing to this and other discouragements, no meetings were held until the next spring, when the Faculty gave to the society the room intended for the Library, but now known as Miss Scott's recitation room. The first meeting in the new hall has been described as follows: "When the time came for our first meeting only three were present. There we were; the room was filled with chapel chairs, except a space about ten feet square around the door. We had no carpet, no table, no anything but a hall; and not a cent of money in the treasury; while the A. B. L.'s had a well furnished hall and a large number of members. What should we do? Give up, or still persevere? We determined we would never give up unless compelled to do so." At the next meeting, older members having become again interested in the work, were present; new members were received from time to time; about three hundred dollars were raised, and the hall was furnished Thus, at the end of the year the society compared favorably with the A. B. L. In the fall of 1864, the A. B. L's challenged the Aletheorians to contest; they accepted, but asked for judges; the A. B. L's objected, and the Aletheorians agreed to contest once only without judges. Of course both societies claimed the victory that year. The next year the same trouble was revived, and the result was no contest until '68.

In '66, there being no contest, the society gave its first public exhibition. The exercises consisted in a Salutatory, Selections. Essays, Declamations and a paper. In '67, the trouble about the judges not being settled, a second exhibition was given, consisting of the same order of exercises as the first.

The next year, both societies having agreed to have judges, the second annual contest was held.

This closes the brief account of the early days of the Aletheorian Society. A short history, not differing materially from others of the same character, only as furnishing a striking example of what perseverance has done.

History of the H. B. L. Society.

By MRS. R. W. McCLAUGHRY.

In the month of October in the year 1857, a group of young ladies assembled in one of the recitation rooms of the old building-then new and known as Monmouth College-and organized its first Ladies' Literary Society. It was done with many misgivings, for in that day any evidence of being "strong minded" was to be deplored in woman. But as the young ladies were required to take part in the public exercises of the College, (but in every case with a manuscript or book in hand as became modesty,) and as the gentlemen of the College had already organized a similar society for their training in literature - and as the ladies were ambitious to equal them in this regard as in every other-therefore was the important step taken and the Society born. It was chartered "Philomathean" and bore that name for a few weeks only, when it was decided that as at that time none of the lady students were studying either Greek or Latin, and many had begun the study of French, it would be more appropriate to give our society a French name rather than one derived from the "dead" language, consequently the name was changed to "AMATEURS DES BELLES LETTRES," and for a motto "Droit et Avant" was chosen-the name and motto which the society has borne until the present time; a period of almost 23 As the name was rather long for convenience, and somewhat difficult to pronounce by the uninitiated, by common consent and for common use the initials only were taken, and it has ever since been spoken of as the A. B. L. Society of Monmouth College.

During its struggle for existence, and after its members had industriously and perseveringly collected a few books—the nucleous of what they fondly hoped in time would be a fine library, they had the misfortune to lose these books together with the Society Records in the burning of the Philadelphian library, (on whose shelves the A. B. L.'s books were, and by the courtesy of whom they were occupying the same hall.) On account of the destruction of the society records the names of the first members and founders of it can be given with only an approximation of accuracy, and there is great danger that some names of those who took an active part in sustaining and fostering its growth during the first years of its precarious existence, may be entirely and unintentionally omitted. There are only the printed programmes of the public exercises of the society which still live in the scrap-books of some of the first graduates of the college, to give any information in this regard. The first of these is the programme of a joint exhibition of the Eccritean and A. B. L. societies. On the outer leaf of which-above the society names-are printed the two mottoes: "Sic iter ad Astra" and "Droit et Avant,"-"This is the way to the Stars," "Right and Onward,"-which at that time was considered a very happy blending. On the inside of the programme are printed the following names of A. B. L.'s: Misses Christie R. Smiley, M. M. Findley, M. J. McKown, R. J. M. French, Jennie Robb and Lizzie C. Madden. On the programmes of the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th annual exhibitions of the A. B. L. society are found the additional names of Maggie A. Davis, Maggie McCornack, Emma J. Mitchell, Jennie Rule, Kate McClanahan, M. Amelia Hill, A. R. Fleming, A. L. Harding, C. McMillan, Angeline Morgan, Angeline Bacon, C. E. Beach, M. J. Madden, E. Eames, Mary Swartwood, M. E. Hemphill, J. P. Walker, M. S. Tracy, E. McConnel, C. B. Fleming, M. R. Stephenson, P. McKown, E. J. Young, E. C. Denman, M. S. Madden, L. C. Parry and M. E. McDill, and here the record ends, giving, without doubt, the majority of the names of the first members and founders of the society. Many of them were married and have other names; many of them are dead-but all of them have lived, or are living, honorable and useful lives.

When the old College building was completed it was found that halls had been provided for only two literary societies. These the gentlemen students appropriated, dividing their original society and forming the present Eccritean and Philadelphian societies, taking each a hall and leaving the young ladies, with their infant society, out in the cold. This was felt by them at the time as an act of injustice, but they made no public protest. They possessed their souls in patience until the new college building was projected, when they surprised the building committee by appearing before them and the faculty, claiming their rights to a hall, and stating that if one was not furnished them they would no longer take part in the public exercises of the College; that according to the constitution of the college ladies were to be admitted on equal terms and footing with the gentlemen, and were entitled to equal privileges. Astonished at their boldness in thus declaring their rights, but convinced of the justness of their claims, the matter was taken into consideration, and the hall at present used by the society was given them.

Many noble women have gone forth from the college better equipped for the battle of life by the drill and experience gained in the A. B. L. Society of Monmouth College.

History of the Eccritean Society.

This society was organized January 9th, 1857. Some time previous to this date the Philadelphian society, the only one then in existence in the college, had decided that for the mutual benefit of all, a division would be made and a new society founded. Accordingly two brothers, James R. and Daniel Harris, were appointed to make the division by alternate choice. The party under James R. retained the furnished hall and the old name. The other division repaired to the college chapel and there organized the society afterward known as the Eccritean.

The names of those constituting this new society are Daniel Harris, W. H. Blair, A. P. Jamieson, R. M. Dihel, R. S. Findley, J. H. Brown, Hugh Ramsey, J. A. Porter, H. Ewing, M. H. Jamieson, J. F. Mitchell, R. W. McClaughry, John Gowdy, A. B. Struthers, Henry Scott, A. T. Andrews and J. W. Crawford.

The first officers were: Daniel Harris, President; R. W. Mc-Claughry, secretary, and R. M. Dihel treasurer. At the second meeting Mr. McClaughry withdrew from society, and A. P. Jamieson was appointed secretary. Two meetings were held in the chapel. The third week, society having procured a small amount of plain furniture, moved into an unplastered room on the second floor of the college building. At a called meeting, Feb. 19, a constitution and by-laws were adopted, leaving the name blank. At the next meeting the present name was chosen. May 5, 1865, the society received its charter and became "a corporate body under the name and style of The Eccritean Literary Society of Monmouth College, the object of which is the establishment of a society and library for literary and scientific purposes."

These constitute the most important facts in reference to the early days of the Eccritean society. Nothing more than a passing notice can be given to a few of the many things, which might be made interesting in a more extended sketch. We might note the fact that in her first year the Eccritean society challenged the Philosociety to contest; that the matter of having contest judges became the source of an annual quarrel between the two societies, and that no permanent settlement was made until the year 1867; that in their early days the A. B. L. and Eccritean societies shared the same hall and library; that the nucleus of the present library was a donation of three volumes by Rev. J. C. Porter, in 1857; that the Eccritean society received from the Philosociety forty-five dollars for choice of halls in the new building; that they added to this sum and purchased "the first decent carpet ever laid in the college building," etc.

There is one epoch in the history of the Eccritean society of more than ordinary interest, and of which her members are especially proud. Not that she was then in a flourishing condition as a society—far from it. Those were days in which it required a vigorous effort for her to maintain a standing with her rival society. The year 1859 closed with a large membership and forty-five new names were enrolled during 1860 and 1861. But of all this number only five returned to college in the fall of 1862. The Eccritean ranks were depleted to fill the ranks of the Potomac and Cumberland. Heroes they were, who gladly left their "Strife for fame in the field of letters" that they might fight their country's battles, carrying with them to their new field the old motto—"Sic Iter ad Astra."

History Philadelphian Society.

By R. W. McCLAUGHRY.

In September, 1856, the institution now known as Monmouth College, was formally organized, and commenced its exercises in the basement of the 1st Presbyterian church of Monmouth, Illinois. In connection with it was organized during the same month the "Erodelphian Literary Society of Monmouth College." Late in the month of October following, the (then) new college building was completed and occupied for college purposes. I find among some old college papers a copy of the minutes of one of the regular meetings of the society, dated "Erodelphian Hall, Monmouth College, Nov. 14th, 1856." These minutes show that W. S. McClanahan was at that time president, and A. P. Jamison, secretary of the society, and from the date I conclude they were its first officers. The minutes further show that at the same meeting a committee was appointed to arrange for fitting up the Erodelphian hall in the new college building.

This is as far as the record takes us, but it is "within the memory of men still living," that the above committee set about the duty with which it was charged, and accordingly induced the good ladies of Monmouth to give a supper in the chapel of the new college, from which was realized one hundred and twenty dollars. This was just at the close of the winter term. When the society met early in January, 1857, Pres. Wallace attended its first meeting, called attention to its vigorous growth, and urged the importance of arranging for an amicable division, and the formation of two societies with the material then on hand. The proposition was discussed at length, and finally carried on January 9th, 1857, and two brothers, James R. Harris and Daniel Harris, were appointed a committee to divide the society. This they proceeded to do by "choosing up" after the manner of the captains in old fashioned game of ball. Daniel Harris and his followers took the hall on the south side of the college building, and organized there under the name of the Eccritean Society, while James R. Harris and his "Spartan band" retired to the north hall and organized the Philadelphian Society. The money was divided equally, giving each $60 as a start in life. The latter society chose for its first Fresident, W. S. McClana han, and George Norcross was its first Secretary. On the 26th of March, 1857, the society was represented in the first public exhibition ever given by the College.

The struggle of the Society to get upon a firm footing, the anxieties, and labors of its founders and early members to make it an organization of which they need not in future be ashamed, can never be set forth in history as they are remembered by those who were paricipants in them.

In looking over the first roll of members, one cannot but note how busy death has been with the young and hopeful men who were present at its organization. A R. Foster and Hugh Porter died before the Society had completed a year of its existence; C. A. Kendall was killed in the first battle of Fort Donaldson; J. S. Campbell at the second attack on the same place; A. G. Crawford and Wm. Thompson both died since the war. Those who survive are widely separated, and we can only hope that wherever the lot of each is cast, he is keeping steadily in view the motto which, after so much thought and prayer, was emblazoned on our banner:—"Vincit Que se Vincit."
